Reviewer A:

- Still wonder why you need to compare the attitude of elderly in Bangkok and Surabaya. Could you please explain in the Introduction part? Why Bangkok? Why Surabaya?
 - Where and when was the study conducted?
 - Whose instrument did you use? or you developed by yourself?
 - "MHE by using SKT 1 technique" What is that? Could you please explain it, the process of MHE in this study?
 - How did you collect the data and who was the principle investigator? you may need to mention this in the data collection part
 - Are you sure that the study represent Surabaya and Bangkok? if not, you need to state in the limitation of the study.
- -----

Reviewer D:

- Based on Table 3, a statement after states that there is no significant difference; yet there is no result showing this.
Need to explain basis for Tables 4, 5 and 6.
Table 7 is a direct print out from the data analysis and is not clear.
The introduction and basis for the problem, including the discussion section mostly focused on the value of MHE and discussed attitude independently. This attitude may be closely linked to whether the participants had enough knowledge and experience with MHE.
- In general, the paper is well-written but there are a few grammar checks that are needed.
- Please note my previous comments. Please make it clear if this data on attitude was collected before or after the intervention was implemented. Are you more after the acceptability of the intervention of MHE?
- The actual direction and objectives of the study is very simple and does not contribute to additional knowledge per se. However, it is possible that this is part of a bigger study which involved the effects of the intervention and the idea of writing a separate paper just on attitude needs to be reconsidered.
