~ Two - Three days off ~ Hi my name is Afta and I am a student of Widya Mandala College University. For 2 weeks we have to face the final semester test. Everybody knows that prepare before the test is very important for the students. OK, this semester I take Discourse Analyzes and SCA (Second Language Acquisition). I know that both these lessons are very difficulties to learn. we need much time to learn it and understand the point. In my opinion, the faculty have to give the student two or three days off to prepare the final semester test. for example; we can make summary of our notes, we can use the material which we do not understand then we do the exercise and the last it decrease the rate number of cheating.

use plus for
First, I have opportunities to make the summary of my own notes. Even though I have studied harder everyday, it does not mean that I understand the point is. If the faculty give the students two - three days off I can use it to read or review all the materials that I have learn before. The other I can complete my note which not complete so that I do not have difficulties to learn.

Second, we have opportunities to ask ^{to what} the material that we do not understand. Maybe it is a good strategies which is given to the student. I think we not only ask to the teacher maybe we can ask to ~~the~~ friends. Then we can try to do many exercises which maybe will give us the test.

Third, giving two - three days off can decrease the rate number of cheating. I think it helps students to prepare their time to face the test. So there is no reason for student to cheating during the test. If they are known cheating during the test, it mean that they do not study for test. They do not use the opportunities which the faculty give to them. It is not the faculty fault if they don't passing the students.

An addition, all my reasons have clear why the faculty have to give two - three days off to prepare the final semester test.
we consider that everybody have different capacity to think how they can memorize all they have learnt. Learning or ~~review~~ what they have learnt need a time because people have to process and absorb the material until they can understand what the point is.

" Why we should read English newspaper and novel ? "
" The more you read , more information will you get "
I am sure that everybody agree with this statement , especially for them who is like to read . Including me , I really agree that college students read English newspapers , magazines , novels and books , other than our compulsory course books . There are 3 following reasons .
First , students can get a lot of information by reading English newspaper , magazines , novels and books . Maybe , many students don't understand why we must read many kinds of books . They think if they read it will waste their time and make sleepy too . Actually , many advantages that we get by reading . Students get many information such as ; know the culture of another country ; for example : " Ngaben " in Bali . This culture is really different with our culture when we want to buried our family. And it is interesting too. Another example: "Tusuk sate" especially when we want to buy a house. Some people believe that "Tusuk sate" will bring a bad luck for the family. All of those information above are really helpful and useful for our life. Because we will know what we should do and not to do also not make a mistake in our life.

Second, students can improve their skill in writing.

The more you read, you will know how to make a good essay without grammatical errors. Students can aware when they want to make an essay or make a logical sentence. In fact many students do silly mistakes because of their clumsiness. With reading many books or sources they will not experience that silly mistakes. Maybe, they can be a famous writer / novelist.

Third, students can reduce their stress. Students must remember that reading not always make them feel bored or sleepy. But can reduce their stress and entertain them. Sometimes, we need read a comics, sport magazine or romantic novel. Why we should read that kinds of books?

The answer is [✓] can balance our life Because if the students only read the heavy books the effect is really dangerous. They become stress and maybe crazy. So why we need to read ^{that is} comics or romantic novels. We don't want the students become mental illness because they read many books. Our purpose is they can relax their mind and have fun again with their friends.

All in all, read English newspapers, magazines, novels and books it is really effective for our life. Many advantages that we can get from reading, for instance; get a lot of information, improve our skill in writing and reduce our stress. I know this because my experience has prove it in my life. Can you do it? I hope you the reader, will have better luck.

College Students absolutely need days^{semester} off before taking the final examination.
Almost every university in Indonesia directly hold the final ^{semester} examination without two or three days off.
It makes some students can't do the final ^{semester} examination well and can't reach the maximum grade. In this case, there are two sides which are loss. The first side is the students and the another side is the university. For the students, it can make the students don't pass the exam or even pass the exam but with minimum grade. And for the university, it can decrease the average point grade. If the average point grade ^{is} low, it shows that the university fails to educate their students, so there's no senior High School students who are interested to study in that university. According to my opinion, college students need two or three days off before taking the final semester examination. It is very important for them because of three following reasons.
First, two or three days off before taking the final semester examination can help the students more prepare for facing the final semester examination. The students will have enough time to prepare all. For example: we have enough time to do many exercises, read the textbooks, remember the points of each material. The days off not only useful for the students, but it is also useful for the university.

The university can prepare the final semester examination well. The university will have enough time ~~for~~ preparing all the questions, checking the questions, correcting and printing the questions. So when the final semester examination is held, there's no students who don't get the questions or there's no question is wrong or unclear.

Second, two or three days off will help the students to be more relax and refresh their mind. before taking the final semester examination. In their day off, the students are given opportunities or chances to refresh their mind. They can do some fun activities which can make them more relax, for example they can go to mall or picnic or recreation, they can play games, and do something which really joy and relaxed. It's very useful for the students to face the final semester examination. If they have already refreshed their mind, they are able to do the final semester examination well and reach the maximum grade.

Finally, the students can be more focus or concentrate to study for facing the final semester examination. Given the days off, the students are able to focus to study the materials because they can study in where there's no disturbance. If the students have high concentration, I believe they will easily absorb the materials that they have already learnt, so they can do the test well.

From all those reasons above, we as the college student definitely agree that college student absolutely need two or three days off before taking the final semester examination. Beside to make the students easier to study, it is also useful to maximize the grade of the students.

The College Students Need A Silent Week

People who study at the college walk their college life as a routineness. Lecturing, studying, task, Quiz, assignment, and assesment are the parts which cannot be separated from the college activities. It is not easy to get and keep the knowledge which can be got in the college well. The college students have to study hard as often as possible to maintain it. Before graduating, the students have to pass many assessments. More subjects' examinations they couldn't pass, more time they need to get rid of "the college's grip". That such routineness is not done once, but many times in several years. The competition and the activities like those make the students getting tired and feeling bored. I am a college student of Widya study

Mandala Catholic University. I am feeling happiness and sorrow as a college student. Related with my experience in the college, I support the suggestion that college students need three days or ^{even} a week off before taking the final semester examination. I have three following reasons to support the suggestion above.

First of all, the students ^{including me} have got tired after studying hard for several months, so ~~we~~ need the rest to refresh our bodies and minds before taking the final examination. Human, includes we as the students, have limited energy in doing something. Beside attending the lectures, we have another activities as the youth outside the college environment. For example: attending the sport club to maintain our health; taking some courses to improve our knowledge (like: computer and conversation club). What do we need after doing that activities at the same time? The rest is the appropriate answer.

Second, there are so many assignments which have to be submitted at the time of the final examination.

At the first meeting of a subject in the class, the lecturer asked us to make some assignments which will be submitted at the final examination. Because there are many subjects which have the same style of assignment, we sometimes forget it. Sometimes, there is a lecture who gives a quite complicated assignment which need more time to be finished.

The bad habit of the students is like to postpone doing something. All of those things make us don't have enough time to prepare ourselves for the final examination. So, what?

Finally, the better preparation for the final examination needs time. The students have to remember, review, and restudy all of the materials which will be examined. If the students don't have enough time to study comfortably, they will not have the better achievement.

Looking at the three reasons above, I can conclude that the college students need two or three days off, or even "a silent week" before taking the final semester examination.

How to get a good mark for final semester examination?

The final semester examination or called "UAS" is something important for each student and me. To get a good mark for the result is a dream for me, besides to make me proud. But it would be difficult to realize if we don't study hard and seriously, so don't just dreaming, That's why I should have some steps to prepare my final semester examination. In my opinion I agree if there are any two or three days off before taking the final semester examination, and I will explain my reasons for that.

The first, I need time to prepare and manage what I have to learn. By preparing all notes from the lecture (which) given from the beginning until the end of the lesson, then completed if there is any uncompleted notes and borrowing or make a copy from friends.

I need it because I can't learn and memorize the lesson only in one day. So I have to manage one by one and at least, in studying two or three subjects for one day and it would be efficient.

The second, to review and doing the exercises. After studied it all, I will review one or two times until I really understand about the matter. Then I can practice my knowledge by doing some exercises from the notes, books or even go to Self Access Center or (called) "SAC". I can find a lot of exercises there and if I can't answer the questions I will ask the counselor to help me and explain the process, and I will be ready to do my final exam.

The third, to keep my body healthy and fresh. Another things that I have to prepare also my healthy, because it would be useless if I got sick before final exam. Day off really help me; here I don't need to hang out and spent all night to study the lesson. So I can continue on the next day before final exam.

In conclusion, I really agree if each time before final examination there are any days off because it's really helpful for the students. Except for preparation also to help the students studying well with the suitable time. So that they can complete their weakness, and I'm sure if the lecturers support this system, the students will do the best and get a good mark for their final semester examination.

three days off ?

Now days the student really studying hard to prepare themself to face the final semester examination. All of our teachers gives a plot of exercises to the students. It is okay for me, but there is something disturb me and make me think a lot. The problem is we have too many exercises and homeworks, and barely couldn't have time to rest our thought. And make me ask to my self "Do we, college students, need two or three days off before taking the final semester examination?. My answered is yes!, we need a few days off before our final semester examination. Because days off is influence our concentration, ^{mental} physically and concentration. These are my complete reasons that I want to explained.

First, it because we need time to study by ourselves at home. On our daily days we have to go to the campus and is tiring for us. If we stayed at home and study, I think it'll be more effective than we have to go to the campus and don't waste our time.

Second, we can have the new atmosphere for study. At home we can get a privacy and comfortable place to study. Because I ever read in my mother psychological book that "If you change to a new atmosphere in study, automatically you can generate your brain level, it's easier to absorb the lesson and give us more concentration."

Third, we can also take enough rest before the examination. Because I think it's really needed to rest our body and mind, but not too over. and it helps us to optimize our brain about the lesson we have learned, and more over we don't get sick during the examination.

Actually need or not the college students to take 2 or 3 day off before the final semester test is still confusing. But to me is really needed, because with the existence of that things we can more independent by study by ourselves at home, trying to find new atmosphere and take enough rest. And I think those things are important, remembering the busy time of college students when they are at campus and also useful to train their responsibility of their own future.

English in Everywhere

English has become an international language that has a connection in everything. It can be connected for business, international relationship, etc. Many parts of objects are used English everyday, such: we can see on television, bill board, medicine, newspapers, magazines, novels, books, etc. All of them show how important English is. As college students, we should master it because we are taught English regularly. We study it on Monday to Friday, we have self access room (SAR) for help us using English in four skills. They are writing, reading, speaking and listening. Besides that, we have a native speaker to have conversations directly. In the class, we are given some books English to be studied and we can do some exercises from the books. But their ability to master English is limited. Although we study English by course (text) book is, it is very important to read English from other objects. The reasons are explained to the next page.

The reason why we study English by course (text) book is because teachers usually do a regular activity. They give some English books to us. Then they explain and give some orders to us to answer some exercises from the books which they can know whether we understand or not their explanation. For example, when they explain about simple present tense on the books. They show the pattern of the tense. The pattern is S + V_{1es}. It is used for now as habitual, such as: I study English in the afternoon or Raymond studies English with his sister in the afternoon.

Then, we need English not only from course (text) book, we really need to read English from other objects, such as: English newspapers, magazines, novels and books. All of them are really helpful in improving our English to master in practice and theory. We can learn grammar, vocabularies, structures, slang words, etc from them. In the college books usually don't use slang words. Vocabularies can be studied by the objects, besides course (text) book. The vocabularies contain many parts of life. They can be about politic, social, culture, etc which are spacious. So, our knowledge are added from them. For example in politic like money player in Indonesian situation. If we don't know the meaning of money player, we just think like someone who plays money. It actually means if Indonesian situation is safe, the two dollar of USA is decreasing and rupiah of Indonesia is increasing. So, the price of some products like milk, rice, water, etc don't expensive or high.

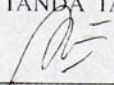

Besides that, we need English by reading newspapers, magazines, novels and books to practice us. We can read them everyday whenever we have time. If we have holiday, we don't stop connecting English at college. We can practice our English by reading them. Many students usually lose their knowledge when they don't use it in practicing. It means our memory is limited so we as students should practice English a lot in everyday life.

In conclusion, English is "our hand". It means English depends on our contribution to study ^{actively}. We can use some medias which are appropriate to master our English. The medias can be from school like SAC and some books given, and from around us like watch TV which English is used, read English newspapers, magazines, novels and books. We also can have a conversation with people who speak English. So, English is easy ^{to be studied} through the medias and practice it.

Title ? There is a question come to us as students before we take the final exam, "Do we need 2 or 3 days off before taking the final exam?". This question looks like a simple question, but if we want to respond about this question and ask it to the other students, maybe they will say, "Of course" or "It must be great". I as a student and also a writer will agree with those students, I also need 2 or 3 days off or if necessary a week off before we take the exam. But, actually the real question is, "why we need days off before the exam?". I have three reasons to answer the question above. First, we can use those days off to prepare ourselves before take the examination, by borrowing and copying notes or text books from other friends, and if necessary we can use these days for group work to study together. By these days off we can use for many activities which can make us more confidence and ready for the exam. But what happened if we do not have days off ...next of course we will face difficulties in the examinations because we do not prepare it well. How we can prepare well if we do not have those days? On the other hand, all the teachers ask us to get good marks, how it can be done? we not only do for one assignment or test, but we also have another test, maybe TEYL or TEFL which these tests need so many medias to be done on time. That's why we need those days off to prepare ourselves before the exam.

Second, these days off can be used as a refreshment for students to make ~~them~~^{us} more relax and cool down ~~their~~^{our} minds because ~~they~~^{we} just already done at least 3 months full with assignments and quiz. Beside of that, ~~they~~^{we} can use those days to meet ~~their~~^{our} teachers for asking question or asking the materials from the teacher or maybe ~~they~~^{we} can use the library for studying our materials.

Third, as a time for teacher to make questions for their examinations.

So, all the teachers can use their time perfectly to make the questions.

Beside of that, teacher also can discuss together about what they have done for this one semester or maybe discuss about how to solve some problems together. Teachers also needs days off to refresh their minds from daily activities in the class because they always meet someone or something that can make them fall in depression

However, these days off are needed for all students and teachers to prepare themselves for facing the final examination. These days can also make students and teachers more relax and also can make them more confidence in the exam because they have already prepared it while in the days off. We hope and I hope that this simple question can be done in this college not only in this examination.

Reading other books is Important for College Students Especially English Students.
I am a student of Widya Mandala. I took English Department. I choose this Department because I like it. In my department, I learned many skills of English like Speaking, Listening, Writing, and Reading. All of that are related one of the other. It was difficult for me, but it is also important for me. From all that skills which one is more difficult for me, I think Reading is more difficult. In this semester I took reading 1 and I reviewed it until 3 times. If I differentation it with at the first time I take Reading I, at this time is more difficult. Why I said like that? Because in this time college students must exercises to read other reading books from

Do by an introduction

Newspapers, magazines, novels, and books especially English. They read it for their assignment or their project. Because in this semester is a new curriculum. College students usually felt lazy or bored because they did not need to read it and it was difficult. According to me, I agree if the college students read English newspaper, magazines, novels, and etc. because I have several reasons.

First; it can help our to improve our knowledge from other country. It means, beside the college students only learned with text book and only that, they also understand with the news which happen now, not only in our countries but all in the worlds. For example; what happened in Jogjakarta now or what happened in America now, or ect. Beside that, English is an International language and also for communication.

Second; it can be to improve our vocabulary. If we read a text or an article in the newspapers, magazines or we read a story in the novels, we usually find the new vocabulary or the difficulties words. We usually tried to find that meaning and sometimes we tried to guess it. After we find it, when we read other articles or story we can understand it. But, sometimes when we read the whole sentences we also felt difficult to understand it.

I think vocabulary is also important for our to learn it -

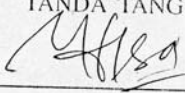

Third; we can learned to identify the grammar or structure

Because in our Department, we also learn about structure and that structure is not limited. When we read the articles or story it can help the students to learn about grammar; especially for the students who took structure 2 or Advance Structure.

From all that reasons above, I conclude if the college students must read other reading passage from newspapers, novels, magazines and etc. especially English reading. Because it was important and also help the students to improve their skills and knowledge -

Are The College Students Need The Three Days Off Before Taking The Final Test ?

Are the college students need two or three days off before taking the final test? In my opinion the College students need two or three days off before taking the final test. It is very important for the College Students, why they must be need two or three days off, because of three following reasons below.

First, the college students must be relax their mind before to face the final test. On two or three days off the students can relax their mind. So that they can lose their fear and their nervous about the final examination. For example, the students can prepare themselves and their mind to take any problems from the any subjects. They also can relax their mental from the busy day in the college, so that they can feel ready to face the final examination day. But if the college students do not get the days off and always busy with their activities in the college, I'm sure that they can not face the final examination well.

Second, take the two or three days off can make the college students prepare the material well. They do not feel in a hurry to prepare all of the materials from the any subjects. They are still have a time to prepare their selves. They also get a chance for asking the material or the problem to the lecturer or their friends. For example, the college students can prepare the materials at home, but if they still do not understand they can come to the college and asks the lecturer to explain the problem. So, it can help them to understand the material well.

Third, the college students also still have a time to repeat all of the materials based on the lecturer explanation. So, they can prepare everything maximally and study hard to face the final test.

On the conclusion. The students need two or three days off to relax their mind, prepare the material well and study hard for the final test.

This way are Usefull and very Important for the college students to get the maximal result from the final examination. And we hope that take two or three days off before the final test can Usefull for the college students to get good marks in every Subjects.

Days off Before final Examination
After study for several months, we have to follow final semester examination to pass the subjects which we take this semester. To follow and get a good mark in the final examination we have to study hard and prepare ourselves. So, there is a question Do we need days off before the final semester examination? As college students we will say, we need days off. Why do we need days off? Because we need rest to calm our mind after study in days school, we need time to prepare for the final semester examination and we also have to study hard before the final examination.
Practical
We need rest to calm our mind after study in days school. Sometimes we feel bored because of study or the subjects in school. So, we need time to calm our mind.

After that we can start to think with a clear mind. For example: I'm always easily to get bored when I study especially when I have to remind. So, I have to take rest and relax to clear and calm my mind. After my mind was calm and clear, I began to study. That's ~~now~~ easier to understand the subject and the topic also when ~~the~~ I have to remind.

we need time to prepare our selves to face the final examination. When we know the material for the final examination, we have to prepare ourselves to face it. How we prepare it? If we have a lot of material for the exam

we have to read or study the material little by little.

for example: when I know that the material for the examination has 100 pages and ~~the~~ our days off are 7 days. we can read the material start from the second day of the days off. we read 20 pages a day and for the last ~~day~~ days. we can review what we have learn and read.

we need time to study hard to the final examination. When we face the final examination

we have to study harder than usual but we also have to take care our health. we study hard because we want to pass the subject with a good result. So we need days off before the final examination. We have to study all of the material which is given by the lecturer. If there are days off before examination we can prepare and study hard the gaps of the paper conclusion is study to face the final examination.

we have to face the final examination with a healthy body and clear mind. So, we can do the best for the examination. If we have days off before examination we can arrange a schedule to prepare ourselves. final examination like a war for us. And we are the soldiers. So, we have to have a good preparation for the war. If we want to win it. To have a good preparation we need days off. So, days off before examination are very useful for us to prepare ourselves to face the final examination to pass the subject with a good mark as we wish.

The benefit of reading a lot of source
As the proverb says learning does not recognize where we are going to learn, how we are going to learn, and when we are going to learn.

This is always happens in around us. We can learn and read in every where, as long as we still have an opportunity to learn and read something.

How and when we are going to learn? It depends on our desire and motivate to learn something. It can be learned in many ways, such as: read English newspaper, newspaper, magazine, book, novel, etc. It is necessary for us as a student of English department. But, it is a pity if this opportunity and source of it doesn't use it well, by some students. They consider that learn and read all of them (newspaper, magazine, novel, books) waste their time and tired. But, however what some students say, it is not influence me as students college of English department. For me, it is important and necessary.
It is caused we can get a lot of benefit.

First, by reading and learning from a lot of sources, such as: English newspaper, magazine, book, etc. It can add our knowledge about everything in the world and our country, such as: news about our country, criminal, culture, social, etc. For example: when our teacher or lecturer give us some assignment for our final project to make a summarize and find the article about "The nationality clash" which is booming in our society. If you ever or often read newspaper and magazine, you would get and know that topic. So, you can make your work easily and fast.

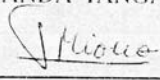

Second, by reading and learning from newspaper (English newspaper), magazine, book, etc. We can add our knowledge about grammar. Such as: Tense, how to arrange clause, phrase, and sentences. For example: when your lecturer asks you to make a free writing, he gives you this assignment because he wants to know our ability in grammar. And you want to make a good essay, but you are poor in grammar. So, you need to read a lot of book especially English books (such as: newspaper, magazine) by reading of them, we can know how to arrange a words, phrase, clause in a good sentences, and we can also know how to use the correct tenses in our essay.

Third, by reading and learning them, we can get a new information and vocabulary. When we read a new book, we will get a new words and information which we do not know it before. So, if we want to know the meaning of that words, we should give a red mark or note it in your note book, and then try to find in your dictionary. This way is very important for us, it is caused if we find the same words, we would not find it again in our dictionary.

All of that benefit above proves us that we need to learn something and add our knowledge by reading many sources, such as: newspaper (especially English version), magazine, book, and novel. It is caused learning something does not recognize time, place, and the source.

Penilaian	The days off before taking the final semester
	When the ^{semester} college students need to do the final semester. They usually need a kind of holiday for example: two or three days off before taking the final semester (of certain) level of education. Because some students will continue their study for final semester in different semester. Nowadays, it has become a trend in another university.
	Last week, I saw my best friend in that campus. She studied in favourite university in Surabaya. I asked her about that university when she needs taking the final semester. She said: of course, in my university have days off before taking the final semester. Although, many university in Surabaya does not have the days off before taking the final semester.

At the time, the teacher in my university course to be effective the days off before taking the final semester for a long time. I think before I started my study in my favourite university. However, in my university did not have the days off before taking the final semester.

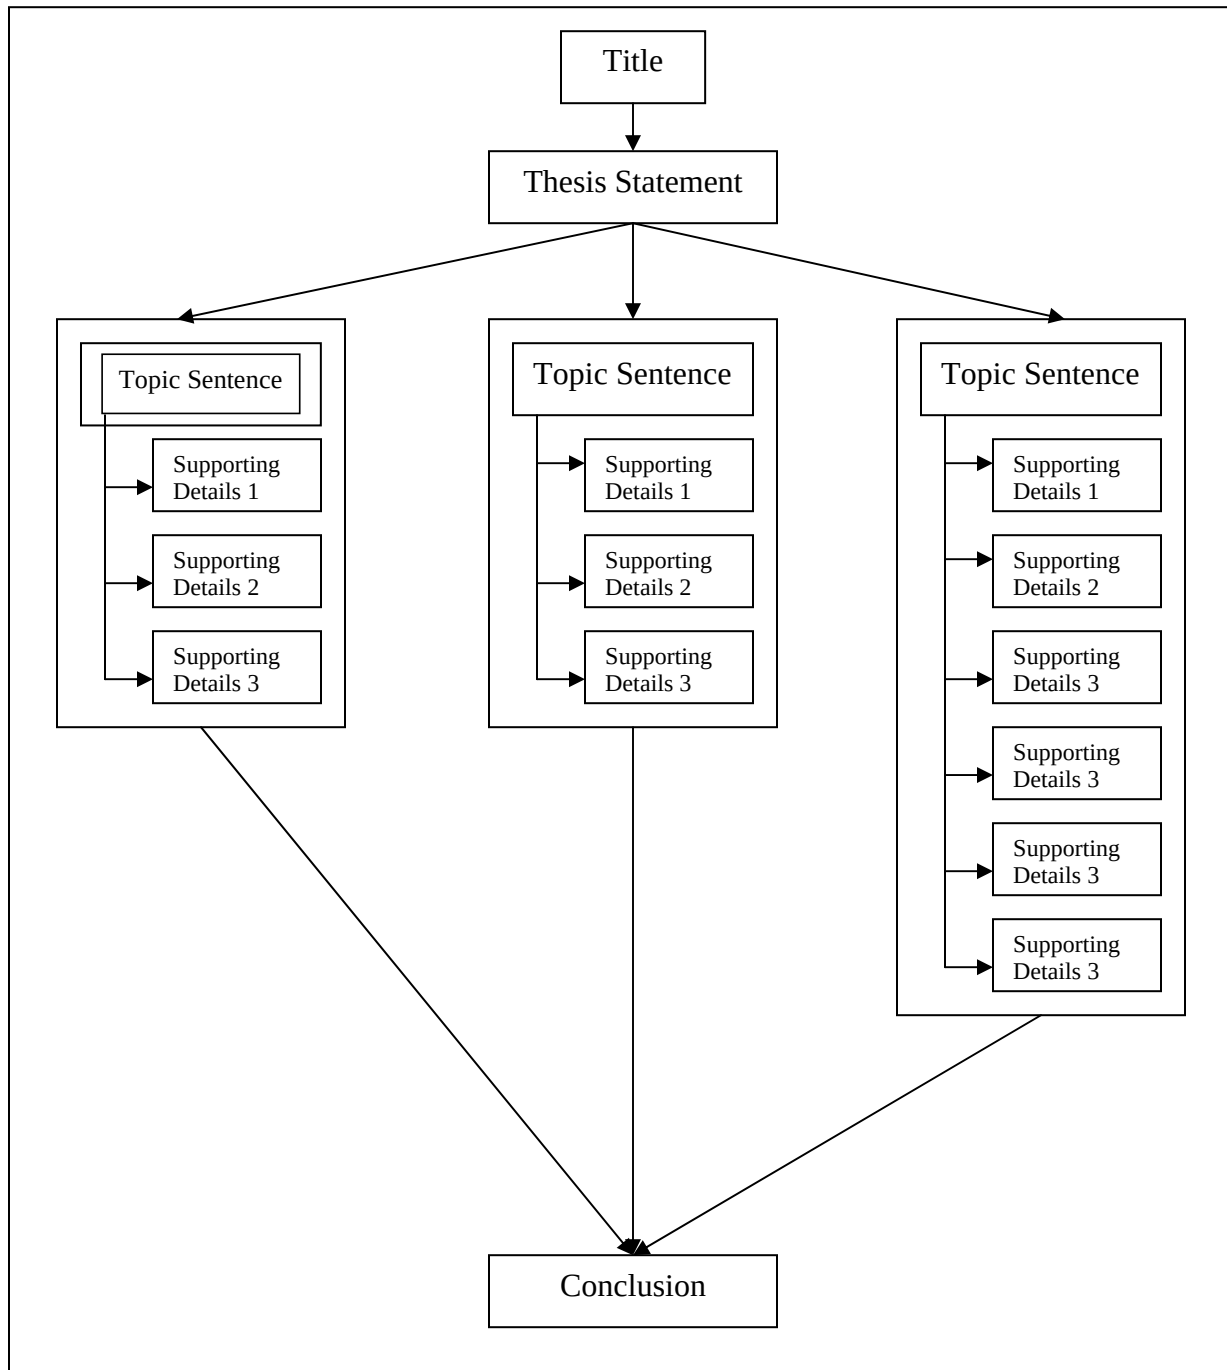

The days off before taking the final semester will really helping for the students because some students can feel relax before they want to continue their study.

However, a lot of university in Surabaya still make this kind of the days off before taking the final semester as a tradition of their university. I suggest for my university will be use the days off before taking the final semester.
